

The Warren Reader

Latest reading news

A huge thank you to all that attended our books and breakfast morning. It was a lovely way to start the day and share lots of different types of reading with you all.

We are looking to host these events each half term to bring our reading community together. We were also able to share our new dual language books!

Well done to the reading team for organising the event!

Reading team

Inside this issue

- Books and breakfast
- Our reading in the community goal
- Book reviews and Mollie's quote of the week!
- Mental health week 2024
- Family story time bedtime bags

Reading in our community project

As a Reading Team we are determined to share our love of reading beyond school and into the wider community.

Over the next half term we will be.....

- ⇒ Visiting Hawthorne Lodge car home to deliver book parcels.
- ⇒ Host Reading mornings for the residents.

Family story time bags!

Next half term, look out for our Family story time bags. Each class teacher will have 2 bags to share each week.

Families can borrow these for a week to enjoy reading/sharing stories and playing story related

Mollie's reading quote of the week:

“Reading is a door to another world!”

Online story telling

This month marks Mental health month. Keep your eye out for Miss Pithers posting a story on dojo for you to listen to!

Class swap!

Every fortnight on a Friday, colleagues from across school visit different classes as surprise to read to the children!